Thank you for your trusting in HiKee Essential Oil Blends (HEO Blends), but more importantly, believing in your self-worth, treating your body better, & using the finest topical and aromatherapeutic essential oil blends known to mankind for healing & mood stabilization.

We put our heart and soul into creating personalized, hand-crafted blends with each order to ensure that you & your loved ones receive only the finest quality of essential oils possible.

We believe in the power of pure essential oils and offer a variety of methods for you to apply them into your daily regimen, for organic healing versus treating for a variety of ailments.

You now hold the Kee to higher living with HiKee. Get ready to feel the best you have ever felt.

Here are a few Kee points you should know to know about your oil blends before you start:

-  We cultivate all oil blends with carrier & base products that are 100% organic and feature non-GMO properties. This is our forever promise to you.
-  The more you use your oils, the better they will work overtime. With some oil blends, you will feel their active ingredients work instantly, while others will work better & better over time with continuous daily use.
-  Review all essential oil pamphlets included with your order for more information on essential oil basics. You can also find additional ideas on other available oil blends recipes. Reflexology charts offers helpful insight to oils usage for first-time users. Ears, hands, and feet are Kee points to the entire body!
-  Do not be afraid to use your oil blends generously and apply them multiple times a day! You can also overlap oils for different uses as needed. Wait only 25-30 seconds per each layer to allow oils to absorb into your skin before applying another layer or even a different blend.
-  Friendly reminder that we are not doctors. Please consult with a physician before using essential oils when starting an oil blend regimen. This is recommended to ensure that you have no allergies towards constituents in the oils we use, nor any pre-existing conditions that may have adverse reactions to our blends.
